The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, January 9. 1723.

Conſtantinople, November 21.

WE have no certain Account of what paſſes in Perſia; but at preſent the Report is, that the Army of the Rebels dwindles away, and that they will not be able to take Iſpahan. About ſix Days ago Advice came from the Paſha of Erzerom, which the Day after was confirmed by a Courier from the Tartar Han, that the Prince of Dagueſtan finding the Czar had drawn ſeveral People of that Country to join with him, under Pretence of marching againſt the Perſian Rebels, whereas it plainly appeared his Deſign was only to make himſelf Maſter of that Country, endeavoured to open their Eyes, and repreſented to all the Mahometan Princes in thoſe Parts, the Danger they were in, exhorting them to join with him in the Defence of their Religion and Country: And 'tis ſaid his Exhortations have had ſo good an Effect, that they have all united; and even Schemall the Prince of the Komaks, who had acted in Conjunction with the Czar, has joined his Troops to theirs.

Petersbourg, Dec. 22. This Day arrived here from Moſcow M. Baſſewick, the Duke of Holſtein's Privy-Councellour, together with Colonel Seiker, the Count van Borde, and the Councellour Surlande, all of them deſigning to go to Stockholm againſt the opening of the Dyet in that Kingdom, to take Care of the Duke's Intereſt. --- Moſt of the Chancery Officers are arrived here from Moſcow, but by Order of Prince Kurakin, Chief of that College, they will not begin their Seſſion this Month yet; in which Time, the reſt of their Colleagues will likewiſe be arrived, and all Matters prepared for their Sitting. The eldeſt of the two young Princeſſes is pretty well recovered of her late Indiſpoſition. --- The Duke of Mecklenbourg's Officers who went from hence ſome time ago for Moſcow, have received Order to return hither; the Czarina Dowager and the Dutcheſs of Mecklenbourg are alſo expected here ſhortly: The latter being big with Child, 'tis believed will lie in here; to which End, the Houſe where Count Bruce lived is furniſhing againſt her Arrival.

Dantzick, Dec. 30. An Ambaſſadour from Vienna is expected at Warſaw, to endeavour to reſtore Harmony and Unanimity among the Nobility of Poland, that they may not let the next Dyet break up ſo ineffectually as this laſt. High Words paſſed lately between the Crown-General and the Palatine of Kiow, inſomuch that they had appointed to fight with Sword and Piſtol; but the Primate of the Kingdom prevented them by his good Offices. --- The Pruſſian Miniſter the Count de Truches, having preſented a Memorial to the King of Poland, relating to the Affair of Elbing and other Pretenſions; his Majeſty anſwered, that he was very ready to compoſe the Differences amicably between the Republick and the King of Pruſſia, but is obliged to leave the Deciſion of the Subject Matter of the Memorial to the next Dyet. --- All that can be learned concerning the Motions of the Crim Tartars, is, that ſome of their Parties have entred the Frontiers of Ruſſia, and of Poliſh Ukrania without doing any Miſchief hitherto; in the mean time they are obſerved very narrowly by the General of the Ruſſian Coſſacks, who is at the Head of 20000 Men of that Nation, and 6000 regular Troops.

Stockholm, Dec. 29. M. Beſtucheff, the Czar's Miniſter, declared ſome Days ago in a Conference with Count Horn, that he had ſtrict Orders from the Regency at Moſcow to do his utmoſt at this Court, that he might be able to give an exact and diſtinct Account againſt the Czar's Arrival at his Capital, to every one of the Points he has in Commiſſion to negociate here; to which, the Count gave him freſh Aſſurances, that the King of Sweden is determined to lay all the Propoſals made on the Part of the Czar before the States of the Kingdom, for their Deciſion, and that it ſhould be the very firſt Buſineſs that Aſſembly would go upon, in order that M. Beſtuchceff might the ſooner be ready to return to Moſcow. --- The old Count de Welling arrived here ſome Days ago, and was received with extraordinary Marks of Diſtinction, having the Honour to dine with the King the firſt Day of his Arrival, and to be two Hours afterwards in private Conference with his Majeſty in his Cloſet. --- The Partizans of the Duke of Holſtein continue their Endeavours to obſtruct the Settlement of the Succeſſion in excluſion of their Maſter, yet 'tis obſerved that many of them who ſeemed rigid on that Side formerly, have now embraced the Intereſt of the preſent Royal Family.

Copenhagen, Jan. 5. The Margravine of Culmbach is arrived here in good Health; the Prince and Princeſs of Denmark met her at Frederickberg, and accompanied her from thence to the Palace, where ſhe was received by the King and Queen with great Teſtimony of Affection: Having dined with their Majeſties, ſhe was conducted to the Apartments where the Princeſs Sophia Hedwig formerly lodged, they being upon this Occaſion magnificently re-furniſhed for her Uſe. --- The Regulation for liſting of Seamen is now finiſhed, it conſiſts of three Claſſes, each of them aſſigning a certain Sum yearly from the King for Wages, during which the Seamen may in the mean time enter themſelves in any Merchant Ship, whether of this Country or others, by Vertue of a Paſſport, which they are to require of their chief Officers, and an Obligation ſigned on their Parts to quit their Maſters when ever the King ſhall have Occaſion for their Service on board his Fleet. ----- The Woollen Manufactory here being much advanced, his Majeſty has ordered the Horſe and Foot-Guards, and alſo the Corps of Grenadiers, to be cloathed with the Manufacture of this Country. An Edict will ſhortly be publiſhed, forbidding Cloths for the Army to be brought from Hambourg or elſewhere.

Madrid, Dec. 28. This Court has received Advice of the Death of Madame late Dutcheſs Dowager of Orleans; but their Catholick Majeſties with the Royal Family defer going into Mourning till the 7th of January, when the Court will remove to the Pardo; their Majeſties will then go into Mourning for four Months, and the Prince and Princeſs of Aſturias with the Infantes for ſix Months. From the Pardo the King and Queen will go to meet Mademoiſelle de Beaujolois on her Journey; and at her Reception the Mourning will be laid aſide. His Majeſty has given Orders for 30 Batallions of Foot and 20 of Horſe to draw together and form a Camp in the Neighbourhood of Aranjuez, where a ſmall Place is to have Fortifications made about it, and is to be attaked and defended in the uſual Forms of War, for the Inſtruction of the Prince of Aſturias in the military Art.

Hague, Jan. 12. Yeſterday the Marqueſs de Monteleone was invited to a Conference with the Deputies of the States General, and was deſired to repreſent to his Court, that the Reaſon of their High Mightineſſes not ſending an Ambaſſadour to Madrid, was the ill Circumſtances of their Finances which which required the saving of such Expences: They therefore desired the King his Master would not take it ill, if they should send to his Court a Minister with only the Character of Envoy or Resident.

A certain Cure for FOUNDER'D HORSES, by an excellent Chymical Secret, which immediately takes away all Pains and Anguish in their Feet, and all burning Heat, and parching Dryness, suppling and cooling them to Admiration, and causing them to become kindly moist and easy, and the Hoof to grow naturally wide, so as not to pinch them; making those Horses that before could scarce stand, or when they did, stood with all their four Feet crumpling up together, able to stand and tread out freely and boldly, without the least Pain, Uneasiness, or Lameness: Those that are but a little hot in the Feet, it presently sets up and recovers; and those exceeding bad it effectually cures in a short Time, making them as perfectly firm and sound in their Feet as ever, as the Author has for many Years past experienced. They soon alter red or rough Hands, are admirable in shaving the Head, not only giving a more exquisite Sharpness to the Razor, but so comfort the Brain and Nerves as to prevent catching Cold. They are of a grateful and pleasant Scent, without the least Grain of Mercury. Price 1 s. each.
